Medtech investment opportunities - June 16th

BioMed Community welcomes you to a unique presentation of 25 innovative projects and ideas from Danish and international medtech companies, universities, and hospitals.

Our goal is to connect European medtech entrepreneurs with venture capitalists, business angels, private equity investors, corporate investors and industrial partners.

This day will also provide an excellent opportunity to establish business networks in an informal manner, and shed light on the latest global trends and challenges in medtech.

Participation is free of charge.
